LOCAL AND GENERAL.

The Anglican Church Chronicle for March is published promptly on time. The fourth, and presumably the last, instalment of the well-written article entitled, "Has Christianity anything to do with Popular Amusements?" will be found equally interesting and instructive as the three preceding articles on the same subject. A very neat and appropriate stanza entitled a "Parable for Lent," will be found on the first page. The death of Keshub Chender Sen, a man who worked with great vigor in order to improve the condition of his countrymen in India, is briefly recorded. "Lenten Thoughts," contain some sound Christian advice. Under the head of the "Church in Hawaii" will be found several interesting items. The Rev. C. B. Grosier, of Wailuku, contributed an "In Memoriam" on the recent fatal railway accident in that district. As an instance of the rude shock that was inflicted and the universal sympathy that was felt for the bereaved and the injured, we quote the following: "On Friday, at 2:30 p. m., there was gathered in the little English Church in Wailuku, a large congregation of tearful people. Creed and indifference were forgotten. The Roman Catholic priest sat there, and men seldom seen in God's house were there, and all good Christian people were come together from far and near, in common brotherhood to unite their sympathies and join in the sad services of the occasion. Upon a vested state rested the three coffins which contained so much that was bright and lovely the day before. The mourners were a husband and a brother, and a dear friend who almost lived in their beautiful home. Flowers, beautiful and fragrant, in wreath and cross were brought by many loving hands and placed upon the altar and upon the coffins of the dear dead. Altar and lectern were draped in black, and to the services were added prayers for the bereaved, for those still sick, and for the sorrowing friends. The text of the sermon was part of the 23rd verse of the XIX Chapter of St. John's gospel: 'Disciples whom Jesus loved.' The hymns were No. 402: 'Tender Shepherd thou hast stilled now thy little lamb's brief weeping.' No. 289, 'Days and moments quickly flying blend the living with the dead,' and 'Sweet bye and bye.' The Churches in Great Britain, in America, and in the Colonies receive due notice, whilst the literary and educational columns contain interesting extracts. We always look forward with a feeling of pleasure, for this valuable monthly, and are always rewarded by perusing the interesting matter it contains.

Mr. J. K. Porter goes to California to-day on business. This gentleman is now well known in this community as an importer of thoroughbred horses from the very best stock in the United States. He purposes to visit Petaluma and personally inspect the several studs in that locality. Mr. Porter's visit will extend over four months, and on his return he will bring with him something superior in the way of horseflesh to what has ever been imported. Having made Honolulu his home, he leaves his family behind him. We shall miss Mr. Porter at the Agricultural Show next June, but he will probably deputize some of his friends to enter and exhibit something similar if not superior to his entry last year. We refer to the only thoroughbred in the show of 1883, 'Ivanhoe.' We wish Mr. Porter a pleasant trip, and shall be glad to welcome him back to his adopted home.

News of an encouraging nature was received from the cable party last evening. They report having finished their task in the Hawaiian Channel, and are now working in the channel between Maui and Molokai. Everything has been favorable for their work so far, the weather having been unusually fine, and the sounding machine has given very satisfactory results. Tracings of their surveys, and a record of the soundings are to hand. Some very interesting specimens from the bottom of the channels have been brought to the surface, and are carefully preserved on board the steamer. Finally, the vessel is reported to be well suited to the work in which she is engaged.

The following is the list of passengers booked by the S. S. Alameda up to 5 p. m. yesterday: Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Jones, Miss G. Jones, Miss M. Jarboe, Capt J. T. Wright and wife, the Misses Ainsworth (2), Claus Mangels, E. C. Macfarlane, Dr. A. W. Saxe, S. B. Sligh, J. D. Snyder, Geo. Carlisle, C. M. Keeney, John Coffee, Mrs. Adam Grant, Jos. Grant, A. H. Merrill, Mr. and Mrs. A. Spence, nurse and child, Ralph Merry, Mrs. Thos. C. Warley and child, H. F. Williams, L. Way, S. I. Shaw, P. C. Jones Jr., M. P. Robinson and wife, H. Turner Jr., H. B. Hasbrouck, J. E. Porter, C. E. Williams, Lottie Williams, Miss Andrews, John W. Fischer, Mrs. M. B. Millard.

At Fort-st. Church, Sunday morning, there will be a notable communion season. Thirty-two persons are to be admitted to the Church and seven are to be baptized. The ordinances of infant baptism and the Lord's Supper will also be administered. In the evening, by request, Mr. Cruzan will preach upon "Miracles."

The official account of the inquest on the body of the Japanese who was murdered at Kohala has not yet reached Honolulu. Dr. Thompson made a post-mortem examination of which he has sent a report. He describes seven wounds giving a particular description of each of the four most important ones. One was a severe scalp wound at the back of the head; another was on the right side of the face from the temple downwards. Neither of these were considered by the doctor to be necessarily dangerous. The fatal stab was apparently given from the right side, entering an inch and a half above the collar bone. This severed the carotid artery, the jugular vein and the pneumogastric nerve making "a wound necessarily and no doubt instantly fatal." Another wound which would of itself have probably been sufficient to kill the man was given in front near the nipple, the knife penetrating the lungs. No more viciously savage attack could well be imagined.

During the Lenten season, in addition to the usual week-day services in St. Andrew's Pro-cathedral there will be a brief service upon Tuesday and Friday of each week at 4:30 p. m.

A special course of sermons will be delivered on Sunday evenings upon the following subjects: 1. Religion. 2. Responsibility. 3. Repentance. 4. Prayer. 5. Obedience. 6. Religion perfected by the mediation of Christ. A. C. Chronicle.

The "Temple of Fashion" opens to-day. This mammoth clothing emporium is located in the Campbell Block. There will be found full lines of Gent's furnishing goods, clothing, etc., trunks, valises, sachels, boots and shoes, and leather goods in great variety by the best American manufacturers. will be offered for sale at the lowest possible figures. The specialty of this new establishment is boys' and children's clothing, in all the latest fashionable designs. The public generally are invited to inspect this new and grand assortment of merchandise.

There will be a concert on Monday evening at Emma Square.

A claim was made yesterday before the Police Magistrate by one Ah Quong for the silver coin seized on board the S. S. Alameda. Evidence on both sides was heard, and after counsels' addresses, His Honor gave judgment for the defendant, which is, in fact, an endorsement of the seizure. An appeal to the Supreme Court, April term, was noted.

Mr. P. A. Burns, the Admiral's steward on board the U. S. S. Hartford, intends to leave that vessel when she reaches San Francisco, and to return to Honolulu shortly, with the view of opening an American Club Room and Restaurant. Besides his engagements on the Tennessee and the Hartford, Mr. Burns has had considerable experience as a club steward and in other ways.

Last evening His Honor the Chief-Justice gave a reception to Admiral Hughes, Captain Carpenter and officers of the U. S. S. Hartford. There was a large and brilliant attendance and a most enjoyable evening was spent by all who had the good fortune to be present.

An unusually long spell of southerly wind has been experienced on this island, but it is a pleasure to be able to record a change for the better. The genial trade wind set in last evening to the delight of everybody.

Mr. Crowley's reply to Mr. Squires appears in another column. This matter has gone far enough and we do not think it of sufficient interest to the public to admit any further correspondence in our columns.

Last evening the new clock tower over Mr. Geo. Lucas' new building was illuminated for the first time. The illumination was not as brilliant as we hope to see it on a future occasion.

Amazement is often expressed by those who note the excellent quality of the new goods, and the extremely low prices placed upon them at the "Temple of Fashion." See for yourselves!

His Excellency Governor Dominis, attended by Major A. Rosa, paid an official visit on board the U. S. S. Hartford yesterday and was received with the customary honors.

Mr. S. E. Bishop was engaged on Thursday on Merchant Street measuring and levelling prior to the widening of this busy thoroughfare.

The gospel temperance society hold their regular meeting at the Bethel Vestry this evening. Mr. Henry Waterhouse will lead the meeting.

The S. S. Alameda will take away 2,100 tons of sugar, 1,200 bunches bananas, and 100 tons of hides and sundries.

Investigation of our stock and prices is respectfully solicited. No trouble to show goods at the "Temple of Fashion."

Attorney-General Neumann returned from Maui yesterday, per S. S. Planter.

There will be a general reception on board the U. S. S. Hartford this afternoon.

The S. S. Alameda sails at noon (sharp) to-day for San Francisco.

His Majesty visited the U. S. S. Hartford at noon on Thursday, accompanied by the Hon. A. S. Cleghorn, His Excellency W. M. Gibson, Major E. W. Purvis, Colonel J. H. Boyd and Major A. Rosa. On leaving the wharf a royal salute was fired, and as His Majesty and suite approached the noble vessel the yards were manned, the band playing the Royal Hawaiian National Anthem as they ascended the gangway. Rear Admiral Hughes received His Majesty with all honors, and after a brief stay on board, the Royal party left the vessel, whilst another royal salute was being fired.

Yesterday (Feb. 29), according to the calculations of astronomers, Venus will be in conjunction with the moon and 32 minutes south of her. Weather prognosticators generally look for some disturbance in the weather when any two planets or the moon and a planet are in conjunction. But at this writing there are no indications of any change from our proverbially mild and balmy weather. Venus, by the way, is now displaying her form in her brightest and most attractive phase.

Colonel J. H. Mapleson, the renowned English operatic manager, has completed arrangements with the manager of the Grand Opera House in San Francisco to open on the 10th instant, with Her Majesty's Opera Co., over 100 strong. This company is said to be the largest and most complete operatic company in existence. Passengers from Honolulu by the S. S. Alameda will have a grand opportunity of hearing this musical treat. The company will give eight performances only.

The season of Lent is not generally supposed to be the best time of the year during which to give a public performance, but a good entertainment will not be tabooed even though it should be given during the holy season. Mr. Jewell informs the public that Sherman's circus will open in this city on the 11th of March, and as they come with an excellent reputation there is every reason to believe they will be liberally patronized.

The Sugar Bowl of the 31st January reports in full the misleading article entitled "Protection for sugar" which was published in the S. F. Chronicle last month. In introducing this article the Sugar Bowl speaks of the Chronicle as the "leading newspaper of California." It certainly has gained a notoriety, but such as no honest person would be proud of.

A seizure of three sums of money, viz.: $49, $11, and $6, all of which were Mexican coins, have been seized by the Custom's authorities in this city. If these several amounts are not claimed within twenty days from date, they will be forfeited, confiscated and sold at public auction in accordance with Section 670 of the Civil Code.

Ludicrous mistakes sometimes occur in a newspaper owing to the oversight of the proof reader. Such was the case in our columns yesterday where an M. took the place of a D. For this blunder we owe the Doctor an apology.

A theatrical entertainment took place on board the U. S. S. Hartford on Thursday evening. The dramatis personae consisted of the blue jackets and a few non-commissioned officers. They had a very enjoyable evening.

The schooner hesario arrived at Kahului on Sunday, Feb. 24, after a passage of 21 days, from San Francisco. She is to sail on her return trip to-morrow; her cargo is all shipped—a full freight of sugar.

The schooners Nettie Merrill and Haleakala sailed about the same time on Thursday morning, bound to windward. They, no doubt, engaged in a friendly contest for the blue ribbon of inter-island schooners.

The yacht Healani sailed for Mokoli on Wednesday with a load of lumber. It is His Majesty's intention to erect a suburban residence for himself at that place.

The barkentine Eureka arrived off port Thursday evening. She left San Francisco on the 8th February, and carries an assorted cargo of merchandise valued at $17,675.

General liberty to the crew of the U. S. S. Hartford will not be granted during her stay in Honolulu, that privilege having been extended during the vessel's stay in South America.

By an error of the copyist, the cause of death of Aa, on which a post mortem examination was held, was reported to be apoplexy instead of asphyxia.

Two instances are recorded in the Louisiana Sugar Bowl where a trifle over two tons of sugar to the acre were obtained this season in Louisiana, and they are looked upon as exceptionally fine yields.

The barkentine W. H. Dimond is on her way to Honolulu with an assorted cargo valued at $20,570.

At Mr. Chas. J. Fishel's store can be found one thousand pairs of ladies and gent's kid gloves at $1 per pair.

At the last meeting of the Privy Council J. Wahineana was restored to his civil rights.

The steam whaler Thrasher, Capt. L. C. Owen, put to sea yesterday bound to the Arctic on a whaling mission.

The U. S. S. Hartford will sail for San Francisco on Monday.

Another steam whaler was reported off port on Thursday evening.
